BUSINESS ROUND-UP

tion: 949-493-1900 or www.oc-medicalaesthetics.com. RSVP by March 1.

RASTA AND REGGAE

If you like reggae music and Mexican food, check out Rasta Tacos. The recently opened Capistrano Beach restaurant takes its cue, both cultural and culinary, from the fusion of Jamaican and Mexican cultures.

Owner Mario Melendez – who you may remember as a former candidate for City Council – is so excited about the success of the restaurant that he's already moving forward with plans to open another location in Costa Mesa.

"I'm looking to grow the business aggressively," he said. "I absolutely love what I do and I love the food - it's so good."

And if you can't get enough of the Rasta culture, check out the Reggae Showcase each Sunday from 3 to 6 p.m. on KSBR, 88.5 FM, the Saddleback College radio station. Underwriting a portion of the show is Rasta Tacos.
